

Subject: : Swap Forum

Topic: : WTB Greys Streamflex 10' 4wt

Re: WTB Greys Streamflex 10' 4wt

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2010/9/28 20:56:49

URL:

Quote:

I love it & would be interested in hearing of your opinion.

It is a killer rod. I used it all Winter into Spring. Loved it so much I decided I might as well "upgrade" to a Winston Blx 10' 4 wt as it had to be even better. I then sold the Streamflex to TUNA on this site for $200. Huge mistake. That Streamflex is a much better all around rod. The Winston has a couple of things I like better, but it stinks as a dry fly rod, whereas the Streamflex is pretty decent at presentation. 10' rod is sweet for keeping line off the water during dry presentation. The Winston is in no way a 4 wt rod. It's a solid 5-6 weight rod, to the point I would not be afraid to use it for steelhead.

You will love the Streamflex.