I used to fish spot in Calicoon I think. Is that the old abandoned looking bridge?

I fished from the bank on the left. There was a road that dead ended and you could park and had to walk past this shack in the woods with all kinds of animals and geese that would try to chase you before getting to the river.

I think you're talking about Boucheaxville - which is between Lordville and Stalker. They had peacocks and other weird looking birds there also.

That shack was torn down a few years ago. The last time I tried to fish there, it was posted with no trespassing signs - and also some other ones that said fishing permitted.
