Sal, are you a member of Trout Unlimited? Conserving and restoring streams and improving trout management isn't a wholly original idea. 🏛️ TU has been trying to work on these things for years.

lol yes iam! and a few other orginazations.

tom thanks. actually i was drinking some jameson! 🏛️ thank you all for the serious replys. i also belive that wild trout populations could be improved through some work without destroying what we have. i know its expensive and i know that it takes time. but if we never start it will never happen.

Unfortunately some don't se things the same way, mostly because it doesn't serve their personal preference of what fishing is or want it to be.

but thats the point isnt it. its not about our fishing experince, its about the fish. when will we realize that and start saving the brook trout? 🏛️
