

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Warm Stillwater Fishing

Re: Warm Stillwater Fishing

Author: : Anonymous

Date: : 2007/9/26 1:40:01

URL:

Ginky;

Don't feel too bad about your picture of a nice; "Smallmouth Rainbow"!

Not long ago, while fishing the lake across the street from my house, I ran into a nice enough chap that had a 5 gallon bucket half full of fish. I complimented his catch success, to which he replied; "Thanks!! I fish this lake a LOT and I've NEVER HAD such great luck!"

As is the custom, at this point I asked him, "What kind of bait are you taking these fish on??"

To which, he proudly proclaimed..... "I've tried a ton of different things, here, today but when I switched to Berkley Power Bait, the cheddar cheese one..... these crazy "Yellow Barred BASS", seemed to just go NUTS over it!"

Like, I said, "he was a nice chap" so I didn't make any remarks to the obvious facts that his "Yellow Barred bass", struck an uncanny resemblance to Yellow Perch!?!!"