If you are really cheap you can make your own.

I am really cheap.

This works fantastic, btw. When I was done, I had a poly yarn float with a perfectly formed little hole to use just like thingamabobber's.

(shame I still find nymphing unproductive, and thus boring, and will never use this) can't agree more... If the situation deems it appropriate, I succumb and fish in tandem, but the methodical roll cast-dead drift-swing is just utterly boring.

I'll swing/strip wets with just as much success in warmer months than anyone nymphing.
