

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Strike Indicator

Re: Strike Indicator

Author: : ryguyfi

Date: : 2010/10/12 15:07:41

URL:

Quote:

MKern wrote:

If you are really cheap you can make your own.

Take a 3" peice of yarn and cover with about an inch of thread in the middle. fold the yarn over itself and wrap, tying both ends together. Secure with fingernail polish.

Trim to desired height.

I used to make dozens of these for Hillie's using poly yarn.

I make mine with foam. I buy some O rings from Home Depot, and cut up some strips of foam, fold them through the O ring, and use some 210 thread to tie it up. Pretty easy and costs about 10-15 cents a piece. Yes I am that cheap.