

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : NOTICE: Posting Links & Pictures

Re: hmmm...larger?

Author: : Maurice

Date: : 2010/10/18 20:45:46

URL:

What Barbless is demonstrating is the linking of photos to a hosting site such as flick'r or photobucket. When doing so, PLEASE, use the orange button in the Message menu of the post and when prompted, set the image width to 300 or 400 pixels as Barbless demonstrated in the two posts.

Just copying and pasting the url to the photo will place it at the full size in the hosting site and typically causes very large photos to load which in turn causes the reader to scroll left to right making it difficult to read the posts.

We appreciate your conforming to the guidelines regarding the posting of pics.