Hey all,

im looking for a new fly line...i have a Three Forks 7'6" 3wt (awesome for the price!!) the line i got with the rod and reel is getting to be more of a bother then an asset...it is cheap and getting cracks and all that jazz...i need a new line and some information on what line i would like...i do a lot of dry fly fishing in the spring and nymph all winter...so i guess im looking for a really good DT all-around fly line that will last and can be abused and still float...i take care of my line don't get me wrong i just need a good fly line and want to get the best i can especially if im looking at paying $60...any input is great...thanks and tight lines!!
