And, just think.....all those stupid teeny-boppers, (and even, DUMBER, adults), paying out all those high dollars for body piercings!! Heck, sounds like they could just spend the day on the water, with some of us and save tons of money!

Plus, with a good barbed hook, one doesn't need to fool with those "backing pins" I've seen on many of the body piercings!!?!

I think, I even have, a few of the old Mustad and Sons "gold plated" hooks on my tying table somewhere.

No, I'm NOT "picking on anyone here" for getting themselves "hooked up". I have more, than I'd care to admit, "self inflicted battle scars" from misdirected flying hooks! (and, MOST, are from my own hooks, too, not those of others!)

Sorry to hear about your mishap, I KNOW how much those things HURT!
