Well,

After some web searching, my cheap ass went to the craft store and bought a few pieces of craft plywood. The base is 14"x24" and I have a few other pieces for arms and tool organization. I think Im gonna like building this and I will post pics and a DIY when im done. all in all I have spent $20.00. Which I think will be all that I will need to spend. Please if anyone has done this or has any suggestions shout them out because Im flying by the seat of my pants here!
