that was alot of questions. MKern was right, do what works best for you.

as for me i like 6x leader in any situation. just my preference. tandem rigs with a dry i belive is best. although i high stick most of the time. one trick i learned about high sticking is not to keep alot of tension on the line with a light leader. i usually let the fish have a few inches. not to much that he doesnt hook himself but enough that a big fish wont snap me off. nymphing is a feeling as well as a skill, learned best by practice. good luck.....it takes alot to learn this sport, but its well worth it!
