I'm with Padraic on this one...we discussed this a little while back and I think a lot of us said the Cortland 333 lines were better than a lot of the more expensive lines out there on the market. The 333 lines are what I have on all my fly rods now. I've tried the high end SA lines, Cortland 444 and 555 lines and I now have learned that the cheap 333 lines hold up and perform the best for how I like to fish.
