CAMBYSES..(aka, "Bob!"),

Sorry to hear about the "cat and the jungle gym", but I'd personally inform that cat; "You're NOW, legal fodder for a dubbing source!!"

Also, since you are starting over, as you said, I forgot to mention that instead of using the brush on Spar Urethane, they also make some really good "spray on", clear finishes as well.

I've used them often, when ANY chance of a brush stroke would ruin the looks of a project, even if using the foam brushes, which leave no brush strokes, but CAN leave micro-sized air bubbles behind if you're not careful! The spray on clear, plastic, finishes dry just as quickly as the brush on Spar finishes do. Of course be careful, in an enclosed area of your "over spray"..... What a shame, it would be, to have to end up with a "plastic coated mischievous cat"!?!

Good Luck! Paul
