

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : LLH fly shop

Re: LLH fly shop

Author: : TimMurphy

Date: : 2010/11/27 20:38:17

URL:

Dear Board,

I'll commiserate that you've lost a fly shop but in all honesty has the LV ever had a real fly shop? That's not meant as slur against the LL fly shop or it's owner but merely an observation.

I'm not trying to be a wiseguy here, but 20 some years ago the closest thing you had to a fly shop was Nestor's or those other guys a bit south of you. I really liked those guys, their surly attitude sent me to the Poconos and opened up a whole other world.

Maybe the time has passed for a fly shop in the Lehigh Valley? I don't think it's because there are no fly fishermen but the Valley has changed tremendously since I first started visiting the area in the early 1970's.

When I see what exists in places where there used to be cows and such I can only shake my head.

We can't build and pave our way to prosperity, try as we might.

Regards,

Tim Murphy 😊