Dear Alphabuck,

I spent a decade or more exploring the Poconos. I liked it when you could get your truck repaired and eat breakfast in the same place. That's all gone.

I don't like it so much now that buses are on the road at 5:00 am on a weekday schlepping people to the Garbage State and points beyond.

I wonder when and where it will all end? Where exactly are we headed and why?

I know that is all a bit too deep for a FF message board yet still I think those thoughts often.

Regards,

Tim Murphy 😊
