Sweet stick but at 7'11" seems like you'd want to fish this from a boat, right? Perhaps this rod is intended to place the user side-by-side with the bassmasters, rather than giving you the leverage to cast across a river. I think they are attempting to put something together that conforms to the B.A.S.S. regs, but wouldn't this thing load less powerfully than a 9 foot Sage? Since I don't have a boat, I'd probably choose a 9' Fli if I were shopping for something in this range.

VERY interesting concept though!
