Shane - We both know what Willy puts into that business (time wise), and without his "other" ventures, he'd be starving. In reality, your dream could easily be a prison sentence. By that I mean a real living hell. Imagine being surrounded by the things you love to do, but can't because you have to work the shop. You can only rely on family to take up so much slack, and then you have to pay someone. Deduct that from the bottom line and it's ugly.

Our only hope for a fly shop here in the Valley is if TCO takes a chance and puts a shop here. Tony has the skill to make that work, and I think it would do well for him.

On second thought....."Amanda's Bait, Bagels, Brownies, & Cookies" would be a HUGE hit! (I am SO there.)
