

---

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Cheap Rods & Gear You Are Proud to Own

Re: Cheap Rods & Gear You Are Proud to Own

Author: : bikerfish

Date: : 2010/12/1 7:45:50

URL:

dammit kev!!! that was supposed to be secret!!LOL! osprey, just a little 3 wt I built up with a mid and tip sections from an old rod. tried out a bunch of sections by taping on guides and a reel till I got one that was "magic"! might do another this winter, after my glass builds are done. and yeah, it was cheap, I had recycled everything from old rods and made a reel seat spacer out of an oak dowel rod. the thing is just awesome casting dries from 3 to 30 ft. I use a nylon furled leader and it will just cast some of the leader if that is all i want it to do. makes a brook trout feel like a real champ as well!