I bought a really nice drop leaf desk at an auction to set up a second mini location in my home for when I don't feel like heading to the basement. My wife has been really pushing for me to give it to her, she says I'll ruin it with tying flies on it. Too bad!

I just don't know exactly how I'll feel sitting at a Victorian style writing desk tying my flies, might make me look a little silly.

I'll send a pic once I have it set up.
