My salt box goes with me everytime I launch the kayak on moving water and I have used striper patterns to throw at cruising pike and Muskies. Just my two cents!

Right there with ya!. I call mine my "boat box" and it's got my WW flies on one side and salt flies on the other. While I don't use the WW flies in the salt, I have on occassion pulled out the salt flies to use in WW.

I find saltwater fishing a challenge and nice change of pace. Sadly though, I only get to do it once-a-year during my annual trek to the OBX.
