In PA? No. Got propositioned by swingers in a Jersey salt marsh, though. That should count for something.

Always afraid I'm going to stumble on a body while fishing, its a bizarre and real fear. Haven't, yet, though.

There is a bridge with a length of old rope hanging from the bottom that creeps me out every time I see it, through. Water doesn't seem deep enough for kids to want to swing into, and its just kinda hanging there, old and roughly torn off. Sinister, but likely innocent.

The swingers, though? Not innocent.
