

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : seen anything strange, wierd, or creepy while flyfishing in pa

Re: seen anything strange, wierd, or creepy while flyfishing in pa

Author: : MKern

Date: : 2010/12/13 9:50:31

URL:

Peacock. A buddy thought it was a turkey. (Loyalsock State Forest)

Not creepy, but saw a morrel mushroom the size of my forearm once. Didn't have anything to carry it home in though.

I once bumped into a (what I believe to be) rabid racoon. It wouldn't cross the stream to flee from me, nor was it that affraid. I continued fishing then jumped over to another branch of a the stream and on my way back to my vehicle there it was about 50 feet from my car. Definatly the same racoon.