No need to worry about me taking these last few posts as anything by light hearted fun. Gotta get some digs in here and there and I have some fairly thick skin. I guess all of my liquor is top shelf now that I think of it.

Maker's Mark Bourbon, Grey Goose vodka, Jamesons 12 year old irish whiskey, you know the scotch, Remy Martin VSOP cognac, and B&B. Almost forgot the Apelton Estate rum, Drambuie, Bombay Sapphire gin and Patron Reposado tequila. I like my creature comforts and good drink. I tried a lot of different brands in the past and found that I really like these, so that's what I stock. Funny, none of my friends seem to mind what we're drinking when I have a little get together.
