are orvis rods worth the money?

That depends on who you ask. Personally, I've never casted an Orvis rod that I liked. I'm not sure why that is, I have nothing against the company and love many of their other products. Just not a fan of their style of taper, I guess. But I recognize that its personal preference and you may like Orvis rods and not like the rods that I prefer.

Bottom line, always cast and compare before purchase.
