

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Wild Brown Trout and Special Regs

Re: Wild Brown Trout and Special Regs

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2006/12/7 13:54:00

URL:

Quote:

vcregular wrote:

The more I read this type of propaganda....special regs do not work/not necessary, harvest of wild fish is almost nil, then why do we need a PFBC? I am only partially kidding. 🤔

Of course there would always be the need, or desire, for the hatchery system. And for law enforcement to make sure that anglers and boaters are buying the required licenses, to ensure revenue. So I don't see the PFBC going away.

But, if I was a fisheries manager, I don't think I press too hard on the point that fisheries management has no effect on fish populations.

The higher-ups may have hidden motives for wanting to conduct these studies that show fisheries management techniques have no effect.

Budgets are tight. Hatchery operations costs are rising. License sales are falling. We need to cut costs. See what I mean?

Don't like this conspiracy theory? I've got others. 😊