

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Your first fly pattern

Re: Your first fly pattern

Author: : MKern

Date: : 2010/12/23 8:28:56

URL:

If it's truly your first fly...san juan worm and then progress to the green weenie.

If you can master thread control, material positioning and head spacing on those two patterns you'll be ready to move on to more complex patterns.

Dubbing is hard for beginners so I would stick with palmering material first like weenies and buggers.