I wonder if he was fishing from shore or was also in a boat? My friend who fishes the Raystown for stripers , he's caught 20 and 30 pounders , fishes from shore most of the time. He does have a boat but we go to an area and then get out and fish from shore. I think he has better luck landing them from shore. He uses the boat to find a thermocline area and then beaches and fishes mostly at night.
