What "specila regs"are we talking about? I kow whta fish, I know what kinds of streams, I know what the numbers are. But if we are making conclusions baased on the effects of special regs, shouldn't he tell us what the "special" regs are? Did I miss an earlier post or something?

And a side note: If he's saying BT don't do well or resond to special regs in freestoners as compared to limestoners...maybe the problem isn't the regs... its the fish. maybe there should be brookies or something else in that stream.

But I'd still like to know WHAT special regs...C&R. DH, TT, ALO, FFO...slot limits, size limits, creel limits....What?
