

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Re: 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2010/12/28 6:09:05

URL:

Seven Mountains is definitely more expensive than prior year's CG locations. I think tenters should inquire about how many tents and adults per site. It may allow up to four adults and two tents, which means about $7 a head for tenters. Discuss this with the CG.

As we learned last year, bringing them a lot of business is balanced off by the amount of work we put them through in advance and during the event. Those staying at the CG will subsidize to some extent the people who will lodge elsewhere but use the CG facilities while attending events. As Maurice alluded to, I may sometimes drive too hard of a bargain.

As people reserve sites at the CG, they should specify they are coming for the PAFF Jamboree. This will let the CG know what our "contribution" has been and hopefully they will accomodate us proportionally. There is an issue of firewood and "day guests" that leaves room for further discussions regarding price.