I have been in the CG's once, not to stay, just to pick someone up. It looked like a nice CG's and should severs us well, I do know it change hand this year, and they did raise the prices of some things, from what I've heard.

Since it's close to Hemlock, I'll be staying at my place and come over for the events and finding out where everyone going to fish. Like other years I'll be going up early and staying a couple of days after. Only one problem, I won't be able to make the morning coffee, I will get you guys the pot to use, I will misss make the coffee, I always enjoyed that!
