

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Re: 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2010/12/29 13:03:26

URL:

March Browns, Sulfurs, Green Drakes, various caddis, brown stonefly possibilities, craneflies. Anything that could be hatching in that time period might be hatching somewhere in the vicinity and probably is. As the date gets closer, everyone will have a better idea how the hatches are progressing. We got word last year of the possibility of Green Drakes hitting early and they were the main spectacle for most of us, but in prior years the Sulfurs and march brown were more the ticket. If you get the GDs on Penns, you will want size #10 or larger. Elsewhere in the area, they may be merely #12-#10.