

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Re: 2011 PAFF Annual Jamboree - May 20,21,22 - Seven Mountains CG

Author: : bikerfish

Date: : 2010/12/29 13:04:39

URL:

last year we hit drakes, but I caught most fish on hendrickson and sulfur spinners just at dark. this was on penns, which if you've never fished before, can be a #OOPS#! she can also treat you really well. maybe it's just me, but it seems the flies on penns are larger than on other creeks I fish.

check with <http://thefeatheredhook.com/> and <http://www.pennscreekanangler.com/> for what's hatching during that time. last year everything seemed a week or two early.

I had some good luck with soft hackle wets also, swinging 3 of them old school style when nothing was hatching. various colors, nothing seemed to work better than anything else.