I have a few Winston Bllx and Blllx 4 weights. I bought the Blllx this year in 8'6" (4) weight and believe its one of the greatest rods made. The Bllx in the same weight and length is also great but the Blllx is a bit stiffer in the butt section which equals more casting power with less effort. I would not hesitate a Blllx purchase. Plenty of power and you can cast dries and weighted flies with this rod all day long. The 8'0 Winston Bllx is also a gem for smaller dry fly work.
