

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Muskies!?!

Re: Muskies!?!

Author: : scotto

Date: : 2007/10/24 10:36:31

URL:

There is a lake in west central PA that is being stocked with musky, walleye and trout(12,000 or so a year) is under trophy bass regs and is being managed for crappie. I can tell you from personal experience that this lake is GREAT for all species.

An average evening of musky fishing in spring and fall will get me 8 - 12 hook-ups. Largemouth bass average 2-4 lbs with plenty of 6lb+. Walleye & crappie fishing does not appeal to me , but a friend claims they are both excellent. Some of the stocked rainbows when fished for like salmon in a lake - trolling plugs & spoons with dispy diver have become QUITE large.

Maybe I am not giving enough credit as these fish are primarily predators it does not seems to me that PFBC put much thought into this stocking other than recreation and it seems to be thriving.