I'll second the vote for Centre County. Down here in SC PA we have legendary waters and a trip here would be rewarding but the opportunities upstate are better - esp if you're looking for larger waters, beautiful scenery and more numbers of wild fish. You could always take a day and visit the Cumberland valley - it's only about two hours from State College to Letort/Yellow Breeches etc. As for a cabin, check out state parks. Many have cabins for rent in nice forested areas although I would think Oct would be popular so get reservations early. Good luck!
