Now I've heard about this pattern a lot while managing to learn very little about it. I know what it looks like and how to tie it, but can someone just explain it to me? Is it weighted or unweighted? Do you dead drift it? I pretty much have the same questions for any "junk" fly, because I've never caught a fish on a junk fly. So please explain to me possibly one of the most simple aspects of beginning to fly fish.
