Gary,

I have a scan of the original. I can't figure out how to post a pdf on here. If you pm me your email addy, I'll send it to you.

You're right Ed. Thanks. Well if anyone is interested in the instructions for tying the honey bug, I have a copy from the original kit. Let me know if you would like a copy.

As I understand, they were handwritten and Xerox'd? You have a scan of this, or a typed version?

I'd be interested in either, but particularly interested in a scan of his original drawing.
