jayl , I was fishing in the America Cup last year and one of my beats was on the Colorado river where the river was ripping. I faught my way to the middle of the river but could go no further. I nymphed my way there and only managed 2 small browns that didnt score. I wanted to switch to a hopper dropper rig and fish the oppisite bank so i tied on a madam X with a dropper and had no problem throwing that rig the rest of the way accross the river. That was my 10' 3 wt. The one thing i do is over line my 3 wt with a 4wt line. It helps with throwing in windy conditions. I would not over line the 11' series.
