I cant agree with you more. When I first got my 10 footers last year I wanted to use them everywhere. What a mistake. You need some room otherwise your spending all day pulling flies out of the trees around you. I live in Bucks County and we dont have much in the way of trout water close by. My team spends most of the time out in state college Pa where there is streams a plenty. So if I have a half day to get out and fish and practice its usually on a small stream where I grab one of my smaller rods. BTW I also have the stream flex in a 8' 4wt that is a killer headwaters rod.
