

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Competitive Fly-fishing

Re: Competitive Fly-fishing

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2011/1/24 9:25:42

URL:

Top-most choice was very tempting, but seemed to border on the ridiculous, so I just answered "no interest." To me FFing is a sport of man against nature, just like, say hunting in many instances. As soon as we introduce the element of competing with another angler to catch more or bigger or a combination of more and bigger, then we will be tempted to find methods and strategies for fishing that simply maximize the "more" or the "bigger."

I did not take up FFing for more and bigger, nor do I think the sport developed because of a more and bigger mentality. Competition FFing simply perverts the nature of the sport in my eyes. Others are free to derive all the enjoyment they wish from more and bigger.