I enjoy watching. If I got good enough or was invited by no means would I turn down the chance... but it's not something I'd pursue. At the same time, I wouldn't be thrilled if there was a competition on a stream I planned to fish that day.

We'll do little side bets every now and then... biggest fish, most fish, etc for a round of beer or a few bucks. It doesn't change the way I fish or my attitude on the stream, just adds a little something to talk about.
