

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Competitive Fly-fishing

Re: Competitive Fly-fishing

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2011/1/24 16:20:54

URL:

Quote:

midnightangler wrote:

Quote:

MKern wrote:

However, I don't follow it as a fan.

Does anyone not directly involved in it actually follow it?

I don't know if its even possible to follow it "as a fan". You have to work kind of hard to even understand what the scoring system is.

My understanding is that you can't win money or even get free gear, plus you have to pay your own expenses. Basically you are paying a bunch of your own money to have someone else to tell you to fish at a certain time and place provided that you agree to follow specific rules of mysterious origin.

I enjoy competition as much as the next guy, but I'm not about to pay somebody money without an opportunity to win something of value. If it was for a charitable cause, that's another thing...

Surely there is sponsorship monies paying these expenses, no?