

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Competitive Fly-fishing

Re: Competitive Fly-fishing

Author: : muskratnymph1

Date: : 2011/1/24 16:37:32

URL:

Competitive fishing is just another way to raise your game. I am constantly competing with myself, so why not do it with others? Yes, you may get a piece of water that isn't exactly what you would normally go for, but it stretches you to be the best angler you can be, become flexible, and do what you have to to catch fish. I'm just getting into it, and what I have learned is astounding. It makes you a better angler. If you are one of the upturned noses that flat out thinks it's stupid, just turn your head. That is a heck of a statement; just because you don't do it, it's pointless. You don't have to compete, but come watch and I bet you will learn something.