I'm curious, if anyone has ever had/tried/or,played with- the "Ekich" brand tying bobbins!?

I ran across one recently, at a show and got to tie with it. I was very impressed with many of its features, being an automatic bobbin and seemingly great for rotary tying, especially, but then when I found out they're right at $100.00, (including freight from Canada where they're made), I about choked!

I'm all for "innovation" and all, but at 80 smacks, plus 12 more smacks for shipping, I just somehow can't justify that, for a bobbin.

Anyone, else, have any experience with these, or perhaps can enlighten me on the "cost/versus utility"?
