Oh, yeah..sure 'nuff he says 1595.

Man, that's ALOT of reel. 7.1oz!

That's craziness, I hang a 1595 on my 10' 5wt TFO Teeny and it's too much, it pairs well enough with an 11'6" cabelas's switch rod, though.

edit: I wonder if that's part of what I don't like about mine, if he's got htat much weight globbed on the butt. I know the right reel makes my other 10'r cast better than it does with something lighter.

(right now, HA is gonna read this post and curse, and hope I'm wrong)

(i probably am)
