Honestly not sure here. I just loved reading books about the outdoors when I was a kid and checked out everything from the library. I remember reading Bergman and was intrigued by the painting on the cover of a brook trout done by a famous artist (name escapes me at the moment - did a bunch of the Fed duck stamps). I've got a pretty extensive FFing library and, based on a cursory glimpse, I think the book I've owned the longest is Art Flick's Master Fly Tying Guide.
