Hope this is ok to post here. My former fishing truck is in need of some TLC and a new home.

1995 Chevy Blazer 4 door, Vortex 4.3l engine, auto-trans and 4x4

Overall the truck is in really, really good shape. I've put over $6000 into it including a rebuilt trans, new shocks, front breaks, fuel regulator, alt., etc. The problem is that exactly one week after I finished installing the transmission, the oil cooler line separated while the wife was doing 75mph down I83.

THE MOTOR IS BLOWN

These things are going for $4000 in the same shape as mine, except running of course. I'd like $1000 for mine.

A used engine runs around a grand installed so I figured for about 2000 bucks someone could have a great fishing truck.
