The establishment of the fisheries in erie and ontario is already done. The damage can't really be reversed.

You can't compare the relatively closed ecosystems of the great lakes and tribs to that of the delaware watershed and bay. It doesn't make any sense.

What damage? I think 95 out of 100 people would say they are happy those species were introduced there.

Closed ecosystem? Uhhhm that is not a closed ecosystem. Just because they are lakes and Very large ones at that, does not mean they are closed. Think of all the tribs that run into the lake and where those tribs run into other tribs and rivers.
