

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Lehigh River Dam Study

Re: Lehigh River Dam Study

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2011/2/10 14:23:01

URL:

Quote:

Chaz wrote:

There is no stream that holds exotic trout that won't support natives. You cannot do a restoration of a trout stream without considering restoration of native fishes.

Just MHO

Sure you can. It is done all the time.

However, what if consideration is given and there is a decision to continue with the promotion of rainbow and brown reproduction because that is what 95% of the fishing population wants on 95% of the water?