

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Lehigh River Dam Study

Re: Lehigh River Dam Study

Author: : SBecker

Date: : 2011/2/10 22:04:53

URL:

Chaz, we are not looking for the fish ladder to go in at Beltzville, just thinking about that makes me laugh my ass off. We are looking at a fish ladder at the Parryville dam on the PO. I know already there are muskies above that dam, because I have put one there. The point of the fish ladder is to give the trout in the Lehigh a larger thermal refuge and spawning area. This way they do not get stuck at the dam and get slaughtered, like every year. You know there are walleyes and bass in the Pohopoco water already, we would not be introducing anything. They come out of the spillway of Beltzville. I can't believe a man with your vast knowledge does not know this. The Alaskan fish ladder is little over 100grand and the state has already told us they will match the grant that we receive to do improvements. The ladder is also movable and is able to be resold if it does not produce like it's promised. Listen anytime you have an idea please let me know.

O and do not suggest we tear down the Parryville dam, it's a lost cause.